

Jefferson Conservation District

The Jefferson Conservation District Promotes Land and Water Conservation and Education in Jefferson County

The Jefferson Conservation District uses the "EnviroScope" to bring conservation education to local schools, county fairs, and community events.

Storm drain marking provides hands-on conservation education and promotes community awareness of the importance of storm water management.

Fire rehabilitation, forest thinning, and aerial seeding are some of the many conservation projects the Jefferson Conservation District helps coordinate.

The Jefferson Conservation District Board of community volunteers coordinates natural resource conservation activities with landowners and local communities.

How can the Jefferson Conservation District help you?

- Weed Control
- Forest Health
- Water Quality Planning
- Mined Land Reclamation
- Conservation Workshops
- Erosion & Sediment Control
- Windbreaks & Tree Plantings
- Waste Management Systems
- Pasture & Range Management
- Soil Identification & Improvement
- Native Grass Seed for Sale
- Youth & Adult Conservation Education
 - Conservation Camp Scholarships
 - Camp Rocky Field School for Teens
 - Riparian River Trailer Education Programs

